

Evidence Act: Phase I Overview

What are the key requirements for implementation of Phase I?

The Foundations for Evidence-Based Policymaking Act of 2018 (Public Law No: 115-435), or Evidence Act, was signed into law in January of 2019. The Evidence Act addresses many of the recommendations of the bipartisan Commission on Evidence-Based Policymaking to promote the use of evidence to inform decision-making at federal agencies.

The Evidence Act requires Chief Financial Officers Act agencies to name an Evaluation Officer (EO), Chief Data Officer (CDO), and Statistical Official (SO). The EO is responsible for conducting an agency-wide Capacity Assessment and developing the learning agenda and Annual Evaluation Plans. In July 2019, the Office of Management and Budget released guidance on Phase I implementation (M-19-23).
